Regatta day, Hawaii's big annual aquatic carnival, will be observed for the seventeenth time tomorrow. Five crews from the rival rowing clubs sporting the red and white, and the blue and white will struggle for supremacy on the smooth waters of Honolulu harbor, and all Honolulu, male and female alike, will be divided into two great camps, pulling with the oarsmen for the success of the Myrtles or the Healans as the case may be. For there is something about Regatta Day that breeds partisanship, and of the thousands who will line the docks and seawall of the harbor tomorrow morning, it will be hard to find any who have not some strong leaning toward one club or the other.

Regatta Day is an institution, and tomorrow's contests of brains and brawn promise to be no exception to

THOUSANDS WILL WATCH RACES ON HARBOR WHARVES

Pointers on Arrangements for Spectators at Tomorrow's Regatta

Announcement was made this afternoon of the two Hui Nalu canoe crews that will race tomorrow for the six-oared championship. The crews are as follows:
Canoe A—V. Genoves, D. Kea, A. Weanah, J. Lishman, H. Kahale, David Kahanaumoku, Duke Kahanaumoku.

Thousands upon thousands of spectators, townspeople, visitors from the other islands and tourists, will crowd the waterfront tomorrow to witness the annual boat-club regatta.

During the past week interest in the regatta has shown a great awakening, and the keen rivalry between the two leading clubs now promises to produce all kinds of thrills for the crowds who will be afloat and ashore.

Special preparations are being made to accommodate a record-breaking number of spectators. The two boat-club regatta, the Myrtles and the Healans, have moored barges near their clubhouses, and will seat their guests there as well as on the club lanais. Every wharf on the waterfront will carry its quota of eager watchers. Special accommodations have been

A number of stunts have been outlined by the committee in charge and it is believed that the Hilo aggregation will teach Honolulu a few things. ### CHARITIES WILL ORGANIZE WORK OF EMPLOYMENT

The establishment of a central employment bureau for Honolulu was the decision reached by the committee named by the board of directors of the Associated Charities at a meeting held at noon today. This committee, composed of A. E. Larimer, B. von Damm, W. S. Bowen, and Judge S. B. Dole, was appointed to make a study of the best methods of centralizing local employment work in Honolulu.

The report to be made to the directors of the Associated Charities at their meeting Monday afternoon, will recommend the establishment of a central employment bureau, to be operated in connection with the Associated Charities, but under some other name, such as the Employment Bureau of Hawaii. Such a bureau would be in charge of a trained expert, and would handle all cases of employment. Any persons in need of help of any kind would be invited to make application for employment upon this bureau.

The committee will recommend that this project be brought before the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association for endorsement. In the meantime the Y. M. C. A. has offered to attempt to centralize the employment work for men and boys as a temporary measure, while the Associated Charities will take up the best method of centralizing the work for girls and women until a regular bureau can be organized.

JAPANESE ARMY AVIATOR IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

(Special cable to the Nippon Jiji)
TOKIO, Japan, Sept. 19.—Lieut. Takada, the Japanese army aviator, was severely injured at the Tokorozawa aviation field today when his machine fell to the ground after catching fire while in midair.

LISTEN FOR THE WHISTLE

The regatta committee announced this morning that arrangements have been made whereby spectators of the races tomorrow will be informed of the standing of the large crews at the outer end, or turning point of the course before starting the sprint home. The big dredge working in the channel will make this possible by whistles. At the turning stake, if the Myrtles are ahead, one whistle will be sounded by the dredge. If the Healans are ahead, there will be two whistles.

GREAT DOINGS ON WATERFRONT

Fun Is in Order on Opening Day of Visit of Friends from Other Islands

Large doings are promised along the waterfront tomorrow morning, and those who are on hand early will never regret the trip. When the Mauna Kea docks at the foot of Nuuanu street at 7 o'clock, bearing the Hawaii and Maui delegates to the second annual convention of the civic and commercial bodies of the territory, the fun will commence, and it promises to be interesting throughout the morning. The sedate members of the Honolulu Ad Club will be on hand with "bells on" to bid aloha to the (also sedate) members of the Hilo Board of Trade and everybody else who happens to be aboard the good ship.

Fun is the program for the morning for those who come to attend the convention; fun, spelled in capital letters, it will be, provided the promises of those in charge are carried out in the contemplated Regatta Day style—which is a foregone conclusion.

Immediately upon the arrival of the steamer, boosters from the Big Island and the Valley Isle will throng the streets of the city, the key to which will be theirs until they depart for their homes Wednesday. Their welcome at the wharf by the members of local commercial organizations—as well as their welcome before the vessel docks—will be unique; one which is very likely to outshine the welcome tendered the Honolulu enthusiasts on their recent trip to Hilo. Aside from the fun program provided for the delegates locally, the visitors themselves have something up their sleeves, and something interesting is promised those who gather at the wharf to view the arrival.

The Promotion Committee has been selected by the executive committee as the headquarters for the delegates, and the offices are to be decorated in appropriate style. Secretary Wood and assistants will be in charge, and a committee of local business men will be on hand to welcome.

CHINESE ARE ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

Judge Instructs Jury That No Evidence of Guilt Is Introduced

Under the instructions of Circuit Judge Robinson, the trial jury, without leaving their chairs, returned a verdict of acquittal this morning in the murder case of Chun Kim Sut and Chun Wong Shee, the Chinese couple accused of causing the death of their infant child, Kwai, Sin, on July 31, 1912.

The hearing, which began only yesterday morning, came to an abrupt end at 10:15 a. m. today. At 10 o'clock prosecuting Attorney A. M. Brown completed the introduction of his evidence. Attorney E. A. Douthitt immediately moved that the court direct a verdict, without entering into the defense at all. The jury was excused and left the courtroom during the argument that followed, which lasted only a few minutes. Douthitt's motion was granted, the jury was recalled and directed to return the verdict of acquittal.

In directing the jury Judge Robinson said there was plainly no evidence on which a verdict of guilt could be reached, nothing to show the parents had inflicted the fatal wounds or were directly responsible for them.

In his argument on behalf of his motion, during the jury's absence from the room, Attorney Douthitt declared there was no motive shown and no evidence to even indicate that the parents had contributed to the death, and taking up the testimony of Man Pau, the eleven-year-old daughter, who was on the stand yesterday, repeated her story in substance, explaining that none of the prosecution's witnesses had refuted any part of her narrative.
Only two witnesses were heard this morning. They were Dr. William L. Moore and Dr. C. B. Wood. The former was present at the post mortem.

Definite News Reaches Democrats That Wilson's Policy Is to Work Through Next Executive

WANTS CANDIDATES TO BE WELL RECOMMENDED

Local Party Members Think Territorial Government Will Be Bourbonized

Authoritative news that every federal appointment in Hawaii will be held up until after the territory gets a new governor has been received here by a Democratic leader in the form of a letter from a prominent mainland Bourbon who has talked the situation over with Secretary Lane. In response to a question as to what the administration intends to do about Hawaiian patronage, Secretary Lane made the statement that the administration intends to work with, and through the governor, and that while the gubernatorial appointment is held up, there will be no other appointments to office here made by President Wilson.

Local Democrats who have been given the above information believe that no important offices here will be filled and no radical changes made for several weeks after the new governor takes office. They are also inclined to think that the national administration intends to see that Hawaiian democracy is given first call not only on federal but on territorial jobs. It is thought that wherever Democrats are available, they will be appointed, and that this policy will be followed if L. E. Pinkham is confirmed and accedes to the governorship.

On this basis, the Democrats here believe that the recommendation of the next governor will make or mar practically every candidacy.

BATTLE TO SAVE MARSHALL'S LIFE IS COMMENCED

Motion Is Filed to Quash Indictment on Legal Technicality

Attacking the jury commission's system of selecting trial and grand jurors, and alleging it to be illegal because not thoroughly representative of all the precincts of the judicial circuit, the firm of Thompson, Wilder, Watson & Lymer today began the long, weary battle to save John William Marshall from the consequences of his act a few weeks ago, when he is alleged to have killed Charles R. Guertler at Madam Pua's hula resort.

They filed a motion in the criminal division of the First circuit court to quash the indictment returned against Marshall, alleging that the grand jury which returned it was illegally drawn. This is only the first step in the proceedings to determine Marshall's guilt, and its extreme technicality is taken to indicate that every feature of law, court procedure and evidence that can be brought to bear in the defense's favor will be brought to bear.

The date for the beginning of the actual hearing on the murder charge has not been set. In fact Marshall has not yet entered his plea. He was to have done so, this morning, but the motion to quash the indictment was filed and this required a further continuance of the pleading until the motion could be dealt with. The argument on the motion is set for September 30, at 9 a. m., and if Attorney

KEOKUK PUTS IN AT LAHAINA; COMING WITH THE MAUNA KEA

[Special Star-Bulletin Wireless]
LAHAINA, Maui, Sept. 19.—With a crew of desperate and half-drunk pirates aboard, in control of the ship after throwing the officers and crew in iron, the little revenue cutter Keokuk put into port here early this afternoon. As near as can be learned the pirates were taken prisoners at the Gilbert Islands a few days ago, and were being brought to federal territory for prosecution as "blackbirders." The voyage has been marked with one mutiny after another, the pirates at last succeeding in obtaining absolute control over the ship.

During the last mutiny the crew threw overboard large quantities of ammunition. One or two of them were wounded, more or less seriously. In the encounter, there is much apprehension here on the danger the desperate men, all said to have been members of the notorious "Bully" Hayes crew, may subject the community to, and particularly in the fear of the men attacking the Mauna Kea on which are the delegates to the civic convention. It having been learned that the Keokuk will sail for Honolulu as consort to the Inter-island boat, the Keokuk is now lying out of the harbor with apparently something wrong with her engines.

KEOKUK CAPTURED BY PIRATES, SAYS LATEST S. D. S.

The following wireless message was picked up at two of the local stations this morning at 11:40:

"On board Keokuk, at sea. S. O. S. Officers and crew in irons; pirates in complete control of ship; two wounded in mutiny; making north by east; at present speed will reach the wall by dawn. S. O. S. S. D. S. Officers staying in wheelhouse. Get word to Captain's Pet."

It is believed the wireless operator was wrecked from his place at the key before he could finish the name of the shipper. A faint flash was caught by both stations after the letter "P" had been heard, but it was too weak to be intelligible. The entire message was sent at lightning speed, as if the operator realized his time at the key was short.

SULZER LOSES FIRST ROUND OF HIS FIGHT

Lieut. Gov. Glynn, whose authority is at last recognized by Sulzer.

[Associated Press Cable]
ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Governor Sulzer, under trial on impeachment today, formally recognized, for the first time, that pending the outcome of the trial, Lieut. Gov. Glynn has the executive authority. Sulzer lost the first round of his fight today when four senators whom he and his counsel had challenged because they were members of the committee that investigated him, were allowed to sit as members of the court of impeachment.

ALL ABOARD KINAU

The executive committee of the civic convention has requested that all delegates from the Merchants' Association, Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Club be on board the steamer Kinau tomorrow with the delegates from the other islands.

Yesterday it was feared that W. Hanson, No. 5 on the Myrtle freshman crew, would be unable to row on account of illness, and C. Creder was

WILSON BELIEVES HUERTA WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE; MEXICO CONGRESS HOSTILE

Dictator's Appointment Turned Down by Large Vote—Belated Report Made on Deaths of Madero and Suarez—Former's Family Say Investigation a Farce

[Associated Press Cable]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 19.—The news that Gen. Felix Diaz, nephew of Porfirio Diaz, has been recalled to Mexico City by Provisional President Huerta is interpreted by the administration here to mean that Huerta will not run for the presidency at the general elections next month.

HUERTA'S APPOINTEE IS TURNED DOWN BY CONGRESS

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Sept. 19.—The Mexican Congress today voted by a vote of 90 to 14 the appointment by Gen. Huerta of a new minister of instruction avowedly favorable to Huerta's candidacy for president and one of his right-hand supporters.

MADERO'S RELATIVES SAY INVESTIGATION WAS FARCE

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Sept. 19.—That the deaths of the late President Madero and Gen. Suarez were not the result of a punishable crime is the finding of a military court, which made an announcement of its decision today after an investigation extending over six months. Madero's relatives say that the investigation was a farce.

MRS. EHRHORN IS VICTIM OF AUTO ACCIDENT

A vague report of an accident which occurred at Kahuku plantation Wednesday afternoon reached Honolulu late yesterday afternoon to the effect that an automobile in which Mrs. E. M. Ehrhorn, wife of the territorial entomologist, who is visiting at the J. P. Cooke place at Kaipapua, was riding, was struck by a plantation locomotive, throwing the occupants out. A telephone report to the Star-Bulletin this morning from the Cooke cottage says that Mrs. Ehrhorn suffered a broken leg.

Trouble on the wires between here and Kahuku prevented an authentic and complete story of the accident from being secured. Of the entire conversation the only statement audible at any time was that Mrs. Ehrhorn had been injured to the extent of a broken limb and that a doctor was in attendance on her. It was learned from Alexander & Baldwin that the automobile had become stalled in the middle of a cane car track, and had been struck by a locomotive. Just who were the other occupants of the machine, and how badly they were injured, is not known. Mr. Ehrhorn is at present in California.

NEW ENVOY TO CHINA WILL NOT PASS HONOLULU

Dr. Paul Samuel Reinsch, the new ambassador to China, is not going out by his post by way of Honolulu. He is going to take the European route. This information came yesterday to W. R. Farrington, who had called his brother, Professor E. H. Farrington, of the University of Wisconsin, and a fellow faculty member with Dr. Reinsch, asking for definite news regarding the date that Reinsch might be expected here.

A large number of Honoluluans in

RUGER MORTARS SEND HAIL OF DEATH SEAWARD

The bull dogs of modern ordnance that are kenneled at Diamond Head barked a warning this morning. Twenty times the 12-inch mortars sent messages of death and destruction skyward and seaward, and at intervals of 30 seconds, columns of water rose in close proximity to the small pyramidal target that trailed behind the Ringgold three to four miles off shore.

This spectacle on the ocean, marked the point of aim, any projectile falling within a 50-yard radius being counted a hit. Although the exact record cannot be determined until the observations taken from shore are checked with those made by officers on the tug, it was evident that excellent shooting was done, and had the mortars been turned on a hostile vessel, its fate would have been sealed in short order.

When Colonel W. C. Rafferty, umpire for this year's service practice for the Coast Defenses of Oahu, which he commands, appeared at Fort Ruger at 8 o'clock this morning, and informed the battery commander that the mortars would fire their record practice, it was the first intimation of impending firing. Forty-eight hours before, word had been sent out that the ten-day period of service practice would commence Friday morning, but
